Hung Jury in Stefko Trial

Old Shawneetown Mayor Tried On Charges from Dispute Over Prisoners

NEW SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (U.P.)—The trial of the mayor of Old Shawneetown ended Thursday night in a hung jury after four hours of deliberation.

Paul Stefko, 65, was on trial in Gallatin County Court on charges of aiding a prisoner to escape and rescuing a prisoner.

The charges stemmed from an alleged dispute Stefko had with deputy Sheriff Jim Fox last Aug. 11. Fox said Stefko interfered while military policemen were turning over a soldier to him in Old Shawneetown.

Stefko contended that he merely told Fox that he thought an arrest in Old Shawneetown should be by the village marshal so the village would get the fee.

White County Judge Max Endicott heard the trial on a change of venue granted Stefko, who did not show up last month for his trial before Gallatin Judge Joseph Hale. Stefko was jailed overnight when he did not show up for the first trial.

A new trial date has not been set. State's Attorney Alton Greer presented seven witnesses but questioned only six when defense attorneys Glen Jones and William Phillips successfully blocked any attempt to get testimony into the record from Gallatin County Sheriff Millard Holloway.

Two Arrested by MPs

Deputy Fox said that on the night in question, Military Police from Camp Breckinridge had arrested two soldiers in Old Shawneetown. He said the MPs asked him if they could lodge the prisoners in the County Jail until the evening was over and they were ready to return to camp.

Fox said he agreed and, as the MPs had only a pickup truck and didn't want to ride four in the cab, he took one of the prisoners to his nearby pickup to transport him to the County Jail in Shawneetown.

Fox testified that after he had put the prisoner in the truck and

Open News Bureau:

Daily Register Will Extend Carrier Mills Area Coverage

In order that the closing of the Carrier Mills News will not leave residents of Carrier Mills and the surrounding area without a newspaper "voice," The Daily Register plans to extend its news and editorial coverage in Carrier Mills.

Effective Monday, The Register will open a Carrier Mills news bureau in the offices formerly occupied by the Carrier Mills News. Miss Pat Flynn will be in charge.

Bill Melton, reporter and advertising solicitor, will continue to make Carrier Mills one of his "beats."

Carroll C. Porter, former editor and manager of the News, will become associated with The Daily Register next Monday, and will continue his contacts in Carrier Mills.

Correspondents who have been writing local news items will continue their contributions.

A special part of The Register will be devoted to Carrier Mills each Friday. This will carry more details of happenings in the area than have been used heretofore.

Items of immediate interest will be printed daily, as they occur.

Good Friday, Easter Sunrise Services At Carrier Mills

At the regular monthly meeting of the Carrier Mills Ministerial Alliance on Saturday afternoon, April 6, two new ministers were presented to the group, Rev. H. L. Waters, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. W. P. Milligan, pastor of the Main Street Church of God.

Plans were made for the Easter services as follows: The Good Friday service to be at the A. M. E. church, 12 noon to 1:30 p. m. Special music will be furnished by the combined choirs of the A. M. E. church and the Galilee Baptist church. Seven different ministers will speak on the seven sayings from the cross: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do," Rev. W. P. Milligan; "Woman Behold Thy Son," Rev. Elmer Grisham; "I Thirst," Rev. C. A. Cronk; "Today Shalt Thou Be With Me In Paradise," Rev. P. F. Fritz; "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" Rev. H. L. Waters; "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit," Rev. Carl S. Davis; "It Is Finished," Rev. Norman Cozart.

An Easter Sunrise service will be at the First Baptist church. The entertaining church will furnish special music and Rev. Robert S. Everett will bring the message.

IPAC Seeks to Set Aside Deeds; Claim Prior Liens

The Illinois attorney general's office has filed three actions in chancery for the Illinois Public Aid commission which seek to set aside conveyance of deeds and give the IPAC prior liens on the real estate.

Named defendants are: Irene Russell, who, the complaint charges, received real estate in Harrisburg that had been transferred to her by Benjamin D. Russell, who had been an old age recipient before his death;

Faye Jones, who, it is charged, received real estate in College Heights north of Eldorado that had been conveyed to her by deed by Floy Mayhew, now deceased, who had been an old age recipient;

Helen Nellie Eckhart, who it is charged, received real estate in In. dependence township that had been conveyed to her by deed by Will and Ethel McDonald, who had been old age pension recipients.

Swing Economy Ax at State, Justice Budgets

Biggest Slash Hits Information Agency's Funds

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House Appropriations Committee swung its economy ax Friday at the State and Justice departments and the U. S. Information Agency, chopping their budgets for the new fiscal year by more than 15 per cent.

At the same time, the committee assailed what it termed increased government secrecy, swollen payrolls, home-front propaganda, and "such niceties" as swimming pools and cabin boats sought for State Department employees abroad.

The information agency's budget was hardest hit by the committee and was target of some of its sharpest criticism.

The committee made a round-house cut of almost 38 million dollars in the USIA's budget, approving only 106 million dollars. The reduction of some 26 per cent provided the agency with almost 7 million dollars less than it got last year.

The USIA was told to quit trying to "propagandize the American public" and to restrict itself to a "good sensible job overseas."

Slashes Total $1.1 Billion

The committee, in its eighth crack at President Eisenhower's record $71,800,000,000 peacetime budget for fiscal 1958, approved a money bill for the three agencies and related functions carrying only $563,799,793 of the $655,649,802 asked.

The cut of more than 100 million dollars brought total reductions claimed by the House and its Appropriations Committee so far to $1,141,175,479, applied against budget requests totalling $14,968,542,403.

The State Department got $180,382,743 of the $277,714,522 it wanted—a cut of $47,331,809. That is approximately a little less than the agency got this year.

The Justice Department got $227,855,000, a budget cut of $6,800,000. That is $11,000,000 more than the current allowance.

Arctic Blast Hits Midwest

By United Press

Icy temperatures gripped the nation Friday and plunged close to the zero mark in the northern Midwest in one of the coldest springs in history.

Arctic blasts from central Canada moved east from the Midwest into the Ohio Valley and south to Texas Thursday night and April snow blanketed the country from the lower Great Lakes to Texas.

The winter-in-spring flurries also hit in Colorado and North and South Dakota and mingled there with freezing rain to give highways a treacherous coat of ice.

The grim remains of winter followed a pattern of continuous spring snow storms which have whipped across the Great Plains into the east and given vent to devastating tornadoes in the South. More than 100 deaths have been blamed on this year's weather-vicious spring and the threat continued.

Farmers in the drought-stricken Southwest and Plains States were not entirely glum about the weather, though. Reports said there was hope the spring snows would give the necessary precipitation for the blight areas to "hale themselves out" with heavy crops this year.

Scherrer Urges Advance Reservations for Shawnee Hills Meeting

George Scherrer, president of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association, today urged persons planning to attend the April meeting at Shawneetown Monday evening to get their reservations in immediately.

He said that barbecued chicken will be on the menu and the order must be turned in early Monday for the amount needed.

Reservations, he said, should be with James Galt at Shawneetown not later than Sunday. His business telephone, he added, is Shawneetown 2391 and he can be reached at home, phone Shawneetown 4323, at night or Sunday.

The dinner meeting will be held at the Legion hall at 6:30 p. m. Principal speaker will be William C. Carnes of the National Parks department, Washington, D. C.

Ask Yourself These Questions

(An Editorial)

How would you feel if you were critically ill and your son or husband were in service, if there were no Red Cross chapter in our county to verify the need for his presence at home?

How would you feel if a member of your family or your neighbor needed an immediate blood transfusion to save his life . . . but had to wait too long for a person of the right type to be found, the blood to be drawn, and the transfusion to be given?

How would you feel if our county had a tornado or flash flood, cutting off all supplies and communications . . . if the Red Cross did not have the money to send in our emergency needs of food, medical supplies, clothing, and temporary shelters?

Would you blame the Red Cross?

Who is the Red Cross?

ANSWER: The Red Cross is YOU . . . the American people, organized as the American Red Cross to provide needed services to our men in service and to help the victims of natural disasters. Our chapter has made every effort to maintain a blood program for our health and welfare in addition to the mandatory disaster and armed forces programs.

Starves to Death

Buster Crabbe Blames Daughter's Death on Emotional Disturbance

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Television and film star Larry (Buster) Crabbe Friday blamed the mysterious death of his 20-year-old daughter on the "subconscious condition in her mind that just wouldn't let her eat."

Crabbe, a husky former U. S. Olympic Games swimming champion, told authorities his daughter, Karen Lynn Crabbe, 20, apparently starved to death as a result of an emotional disturbance which made food distasteful to her.

An attending physician was quoted by police as saying the swimmer's daughter, a graduate of Marlborough School for Girls and recently a student at the University of Southern California, apparently died after a five-week

Spring Here Yesterday, But Not Today

Yesterday spring was here but today it wasn't.

Although the mercury dropped to around 30, streets and sidewalks were not icy except in a few spots.

High-Rank GOP Congressman Proposes Tax Cut

Rep. Simpson Offers Bill to Lower Corp., Individual Rates

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—A high-ranking Republican congressman Friday advocated a five billion dollar tax cut. He said it would "force the spenders in government" to economize.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) introduced a tax bill Thursday to lower both individual and corporation taxes, effective Jan. 1. The bill was forwarded at a time when belief is growing that Democrats will begin early this summer a drive to cut taxes.

Simpson is third-ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee which initiates all tax legislation. The committee is composed of 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans.

He said if the post office closes tomorrow, it will mean the suspension of city and rural mail delivery and window service.

However, he continued, there would be special deliveries, mail service to post office box holders and collections of mail from boxes in the business district. All mail will be dispatched as usual.

Service—would go into effect and stay in effect until Congress votes extra funds.

The 41-million-dollar supplemental fund now goes to the House for its certain approval Monday. The Senate is expected to take up the issue the following day.

May Rescind Action

In approving the sum the committee at a closed session, rejected a 17-million-dollar allowance recommended last week by a subcommittee and also turned down a Republican proposal to give Summerfield 43 million dollars.

Summerfield earlier ordered post offices to close Saturday. Saturday mail deliveries have been ordered cancelled.

He told the Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday afternoon "nothing can stop" the cuts "except money from Congress."

He insisted later the emergency appropriation must be signed by President Eisenhower—not merely approved by a congressional committee—before the cuts could be cancelled.

Cuts Appear Inevitable

That appeared to make the postal cuts certain to go into effect at least for a few days.

Post offices across the nation already had issued orders to most of their carriers and clerks to stay home.

Post offices planned to halt weekend deliveries of first, second and most third class mail and close their doors to the public. Only special delivery mail and rush orders of perishables and medicine were to be continued.

Profile in Courage

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Russian Subs Lie Off Florida Coast To Watch For Intercontinental Missile; U. S. Can't Do Anything About Spying Subs; Millionaires' Island Retreat Off Florida Coast Is Tropical Paradise.

HOBE SOUND, Fla. — U. S. Navy blimps in their routine policing of the American coastline have sighted about a dozen foreign submarines flying off Cape Canaveral, Florida.

Since these are not subs of any Allied nation, such as England or France, the conclusion is inescapable that they are Russian, and that they are lying off Florida to watch for and spy on the first intercontinental ballistic missile, which presumably is due to be fired soon.

This is the missile which, when perfected, should be able to fire from the United States to Moscow in about 30 minutes, carrying a hydrogen warhead. It is no secret that experiments on the ICBM have been taking place at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., and the Russian subs unquestionably have received reports of an impending test.

Since they are more than three miles offshore, there isn't anything much the U. S. Navy can do about them—unless we want to risk war with Russia.

However, it will be difficult for the subs to learn much about the ICBM or to jam it, since it is not radio-controlled. Jamming is possible with a radio-controlled missile, but the new intercontinental and intermediate range missiles are guided by the inertia system, involving the gyroscope.

Russia had about 400 modern postwar submarines as of last year and was building them at the rate of 85 a year, so the total must now be pretty close to 500. The concentration of Russian subs off the Florida coast indicates the extreme vulnerability of the United States to submarine-launched missiles in time of war.

ISLAND PARADISE

For some time, Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American Airways, has been telling me about the tropical charms of Jupiter Island, off Hobe Sound, Fla., but I was always able to resist its allure until a beautiful widow, Mrs. Katherine Denckla, issued the invitation.

Sam is right. He and I may not agree on some things pertaining to aviation, but Mrs. Pearson and I found that on Jupiter Island he and friends have staked out a tropical paradise where the coconut trees form vistas of majesty, where the pounding surf acts like a sleeping pill and the Gulf Stream is soft and warm and sure in the distance.

On it you see the pelicans rise and fall with the roll of the waves as if they hadn't a care in the world. You see the white-bait so thick in the water that a cloud seems to be passing over the waves. Back from the shore line a mass of cabbage palm, bayonet palm, and prickly grass confronts you with a warning. "Go no further," and unless you're equipped with a machete or bulldozer you stop at the edge of a jungle just as wild as any in South America.

But along the jungle, between it and the sea, are lanes of Australian fir which reach up to the sky and talk with God. And behind their hedgerows, if you look carefully, you'll catch glimpses of the homes of the Cudahys and the Arnoultts, the Harrimans and the Lovetts, of Weyerhaeuser, the lumber king, Voorhees of U. S. Steel, of Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Scranton, Pa., and Ernest Weir of Weirton Steel.

The hibiscus are brilliant, the spice trees perfume the air, and the bougainvillea, less languid than I, festoon themselves along the hedgerows. It's no place for a boy who never wore shoes in eastern Kansas, and I shall have to get back to Washington before I become as lethargic as the sea gulls, which will hardly get out of the way as you walk along the beach.

SAM PRYOR'S DOLLS

Sam Pryor has not only helped build one of the world's largest airlines, but he also has one of the world's biggest collections of dolls. He was bequeathed 400 dolls by the late Ann Archibald, and has now increased the number to 1,800.

Every year Pan American Airways helps bring 20 or so students from various parts of the world to attend the New York Herald Tribune Forum, and as a part of their good-will pilgrimage, Sam entertains them at his home near Greenwich, Conn., where he has built a virtual museum for dolls.

"These youngsters are the future prime ministers of their countries," Sam says of the student-visitors. "They're at an age when they don't know hatred, when they can learn to prevent hatred. When I saw a little Israeli girl sitting at my piano playing while a Jordanian boy sang, I realized there was hope for the world."

Pham Cong-Le, one of the students from Viet Nam who visited the Pryors' home last winter, wrote him: "One spiritual thing that I was feeling myself, when before me, hundreds of dolls and toys were arrayed and displayed, is that the world seems friendlier, closer than I thought."

DOLL EXPERT

People from all over the world contribute to the Pryor doll collection, and people from all over the world also come to see it. Sometimes Sam gets duplicates and helps supply orphanages with the overstock. But he also hunts up new dolls himself.

The other day in Bangkok, Sam asked his local PAA representative if he knew where to buy dolls.

"I haven't seen any dolls in this country," was the reply. "I don't believe there are any."

"You haven't looked," replied the PAA vice president.

That afternoon he turned up 18 new dolls, and that evening at dinner Mrs. Max Bishop, wife of the American ambassador, told of seeing an ivory doll at the thieves market. She didn't remember just where it was, but next day Sam hired a taxi and scoured the thieves market until he found the doll. It was ivory, 300 years old.

Sam Pryor first began flying in 1916 at Daytona Beach, Fla. He has flown longer than any of his own pilots. He has also been active in politics, helped manage Wendell Willkie's campaign in 1940, has been one of the big money-raisers for the Republican National committee. But in recent years, Sam's greatest delights are his grandchildren (four on the runway, four in the hangar), building up international friendship, and his unique collection of dolls.

Fly ash, formerly a wasted by-product of coal consumption in generation of electricity, now is a valuable manufacturing raw material, used in a multiple number of products, including ready-mixed concrete, building blocks of cinder and concrete, road base coking material in highway construction, as a sand substitute in sand blasting, and many others.

Dear Sir:
I would like my daily paper much better without the beer advertisements. I do not think the word "WONDERFUL" should ever be associated with any brewery company. In the prophecy of Isaiah we read of the coming of Christ, "And his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." Isaiah 9: 6b. It seems to me that it has been misused many times, but there can be no worse misuse than to associate the word "Wonderful" with dirt, death and destruction.

While our county is dry, I see no reason for this dirty advertisement to be in our daily paper.

Sincerely,
Rev. Carl S. Davis,
Carrier Mills Methodist minister.

State Capital Tour Planned For Federated Clubwomen

Mrs. Donald L. Wetzel, Tampico, legislation chairman of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, has arranged a tour which will include a visit to the Senate and House, a visit to the governor's mansion, tours through the Lincoln Memorial gardens and Lincoln's home. This is done in an effort to encourage clubwomen to visit the state capital while the legislature is in session.

Mrs. Wetzel will meet the group of more than two hundred women in the rotunda of the state house at 9:45 a. m. on Tuesday, April 30. Representatives from all of the twenty-three districts of the federation are expected to attend, and arrangements for transportation is being made by the district chairmen.

Interested clubwomen may obtain information about this tour by contacting their district president or legislation chairman. The president of the 24th district is Mrs. J. L. Miller, 508 North Webster street, and the legislation chairman is Mrs. L. M. Hancock, 205 West Church, both of Harrisburg.

Naomi Class Meets With Mrs. Barbara McCormack

The Naomi class of the Buena Vista Methodist church met in the home of its president, Mrs. Barbara McCormack, on Tuesday evening for its regular meeting.

The meeting opened with prayer and the singing of choruses. The devotion, appropriate to the Easter season, was presented by Mrs. Nina Lee Angelly.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Barbara Suver, Ms. Doris Oliver, Mrs. Barbara Cooper, Mrs. Nona Martin and Mrs. Barbara McCormack. Favors of tiny Easter baskets were given to the mothers for the tiny tots at home.

The May meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Sarah Suver, 109 West Church street.

Jane McRae Circle Meets With Mrs. Everett Hood

The Jane McRae circle of the First Baptist church met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Everett Hood. Twelve members were present. The meeting opened with a song, "Give of Your Best To The Master," and Mrs. Vera Benson led the prayer. Mrs. Ed Creek presided over the business meeting, and reports were given by the committee chairmen. Easter cards were signed by each member for the three shut-ins. Mrs. Archie Abney read from Hebrews 11 for her devotion. A season of prayer was offered by each member for Mrs. Jane McRae and family and for their work in the mission field of Gaza.

The topic, "We Planted the Seed," about mission work among the Indians was presented by Mrs. L. F. Waite. Mrs. Corby Wickham gave the topic, "Furlough, What is It?" written by a missionary while preparing for a furlough.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Daisy Rude. The hostess served refreshments during the social hour.

Brownie Troop "Fly-Up" Scheduled Soon

Brownie troop No. 32, and its leader, Mrs. Leland Cutting, met with the mothers Wednesday to discuss plans for the coming year. The troop will "fly-up" soon. Plans were made to visit Whit's green house on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bynum, employees of the Elgin state hospital, were recent visitors here. They sold their home on RFD 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Turner and have bought property at the corner of Mill and Gaskins streets.

Evergreen Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Harry Horning

The Evergreen Garden club met in the home of Mrs. Harry Horning on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. M. Travelstead, president, presided during the business meeting and plans were made for the annual Garden club tour. Mrs. Carl Rude, tour chairman, announced that a bus has been chartered for the two-day tour. Approximately 25 members will leave Harrisburg at 6 a. m. on May 14 and will spend that afternoon and night in the Spring Mill state park, Mitchell, Ind. On the morning of May 15 the group will go to Nashville, Ind., in the heart of beautiful Brown county, and will lunch there before starting the return trip.

Mrs. H. V. McDaniel presented the topic, "The Ten Outstanding Achievements of Horticulture in the Last Fifty Years." Mrs. McDaniel quoted E. L. D. Seymour as her authority, and her discussion was most interesting and authoritative.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Curtis Small. Mrs. Dean Hill assisted Mrs. Horning as hostess and served cheese straws and Cokes.

The newly-completed 110-mile coal pipeline of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. will handle 1,300,000 tons of coal a year through a pipe 10 1/2 inches in diameter. Increasing the diameter to 18 inches would make possible movement of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons a year.

Helen Jagger was still behind the desk when Morgan came striding into the hotel lobby.

"Room four," Helen said.

Her eyes fell to the ledger over which she had been working. Morgan looked at her a long moment, then stepped closer to the desk. "Still working," he said quietly.

"I'm always working," Helen replied with a trace of acerbity. "Isn't that what's wrong with me?"

"No, Helen," he said. "Would you listen to me a moment if I talked?"

"Our guest is waiting." He made no reply and after a moment she said, "I can't stop you from talking. And since I can't leave the desk, I'll have to listen to you."

"For what's happened, Helen," Morgan said, "I'm deeply sorry. I—I don't have the words to say any more than that."

"You're saying them very well," said Helen in a low, strained voice.

"The next ones aren't going to be said as well. I just want you to know that what's going to happen had to happen. I know, I'll be blamed for it, but Helen, please believe me, it can't be helped. I can't stop it any more than I could stop the moon from waxing and waning. It's inevitable."

She was looking at him. "What are you talking about? I don't understand."

"You will tomorrow. And you'll probably hate me even more than you do now."

Morgan was waiting for her in the lobby when Cass Simcoe descended the stairs at precisely three minutes after six. Three minutes late—purposely. At the school in St. Louis they had said five minutes.

The words, "Hi, Reb," that Morgan was about to utter died still-born.

He did not kiss her. He wanted to, but the satin evening gown she wore held him off. He gripped her hand savagely and Cass returned his pressure, even though her hand hurt from his grip.

"It's wonderful," she gushed in a restrained sort of way. "I've been looking forward to this for so long."

"So was I," said Morgan, "but I didn't know it." He grinned. "Wasn't a day I didn't think about you?"

"I thought of you twice a week, Thursday evening and Sunday afternoons," smiled Cass, then added mischievously, "They kept me at my lessons all the rest of the time."

They went into the dining room and for a while Morgan kept looking toward the door, expecting Helen Jagger to make her appearance; when she did not, he realized that she was purposely keeping out of the way.

The food came and Cass knew the proper knife and fork, the correct spoon. She talked of her school in St. Louis and said that she was not going back even though the general had written her that he thought another year would be right and proper.

"I'm going home with Dad," she said wistfully. "I'm going to ride down The Trail with him and the boys and I'm never going to leave Texas again."

She paused then and it would have been the moment for the right man to say the right words about changing her mind.

Morgan didn't say the words and the animation that had seeped through Cass's veneer of poise began to draw away from her. She became nervous and when the desert had been eaten, Cass was actually relieved to see Morgan take out his watch. Looking at it, he said, "Cass, this job of being mayor has its drawbacks. There's a meeting of the board of supervisors at eight o'clock that I've got to attend."

"Of course," said Cass. "I'm going to bed early, unless—unless Dad happens to show up this evening."

During the almost two hours they had been together they had not talked about anything that they could not have discussed in the hotel lobby with 20 people standing around, all with big ears.

The meeting that evening in the courtroom above the jail was the most momentous one ever held by the board of supervisors in its entire existence. The supervisors, already informed by Alfred Buffington, listened with complete attention while Morgan read from a sheet of paper that he had prepared previously:

"Resolved: That the city of Pawnee City, Kan., authorizes the Mayor to prepare and have printed a number of circulars which are to be distributed during the next three months, via U. S. Mail, to various persons in the state of Texas. Circulars are to contain the following message in essence: To wit: Grazing grounds in and about Pawnee City are no longer available. The merchants and businessmen of Pawnee City no longer desire the custom and patronage of cattlemen. Shipping points, stockyards and loading pens are now available at points on the Kansas and Colorado R. R. which are considerably closer to Texas than Pawnee City. It is suggested that cattlemen who formerly drove herds to Pawnee City divert these herds after Jan. 1, 1869, to other shipping points."

Alfred Buffington rose to his feet. "I make a motion that we unanimously approve Mr. Morgan's statement."

"Aye!" said every man in the courtroom.

Morgan said: "I have made a copy of this resolution. All of us will sign it and I will then have the copy sent over to Mr. Jagger by special messenger."

POUNDS HOLLOW CONCESSION SPECIAL USE PERMIT

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, U. S. Forest Service, Harrisburg, Illinois, up to 2:00 P. M., C.S.T., April 29, 1957 and will be opened immediately thereafter for the operation of the Pounds Hollow Recreation Area Concession under a Special Use Permit. Pounds Hollow Recreation Area is located about 20 miles southeast of Harrisburg and 3 miles west of Highway 1 in southwestern Gallatin County. Facilities at the area include a beach, bathhouse, sanitary facilities and about 50 picnic tables on a 30 acre artificial lake. Bids will be based on a fee per visit for individuals 12 years of age or older. The forementioned fee will not be less than $600.00 per annum, and in addition a fixed annual fee of $50.00 shall be charged for rental of the above listed facilities. Necessary equipment and all expenses related to the operation of this concession shall be the responsibility of the permittee. A performance bond in the amount of $1,000.00 and public liability insurance in the minimum amount of $10,000.00 per individual will be required of the permittee. Award of this Special Use Permit shall be based on the highest bid, including financial and managerial qualifications. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. All bids must be submitted on Standard Form 33. Before submission of bid, full information concerning Pounds Hollow Recreation Area, terms of Special Use Permit, and procedure and forms for submission of bid should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor, U. S. Forest Service, Harrisburg, Illinois, or District Ranger at Elizabethtown, Illinois. 242—

After Strenuous Digging

Army Retreats with No Explanation Of Mysterious Crater in Backyard

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — The Army retreated from its secret attack on a mysterious backyard crater Friday when strenuous dig-ging uncovered only an old baby buggy, a tin can, a length of rub-ber hose and some bones appar-ently buried by dogs.

An Army demolition squad from Ft. MacArthur surrendered in the backyard of Oscar M. Murphy's home Thursday after enlarging the original 2-foot deep crater to nearly 20 feet into the ground to no avail.

The Army came up with no evi-dence to back up its suspicion that the crater may have been caused by either a rocket or airborne missile dropped by a plane pass-ing overhead. Even mine detec-tors failed to locate any hidden explosive charge in the ground.

An Army spokesman, in conced-ing the Army had been defeated in digging a ditch, commented: "There will at least be a hole big enough for a swimming pool."

This was a dubious consolation to Murphy, who saw the Army converge upon his backyard after discovery of the crater, throw up

Little Wabash Continues Rise In Carmi Area

CARMI, Ill. (AP) — More evacua-tions faced Carmi residents Fri-day as the Little Wabash river continued to rise.

Twenty-eight families have been forced to flee their homes and oth-ers are ready to leave.

The river was almost 4 1/2 feet above flood stage of 29 feet, after rising more than a half foot in the last 24 hours. A crest of about 34 feet is expected Saturday.

Light snow and cooler weather Friday eased the danger of addi-tional flood damage which would come with more rainfall.

Seven streets are under water in the low-lying east section of the city. Some 50 homes could be af-fected, depending upon how high the river rises.

Highways and rail lines are still clear.

Neighbors, relatives and busi-nesses have pitched in to help the flood-stricken families.

One trucking company is evacu-ating families without charge.

An elderly bedfast couple was taken from their home by a donat-ed ambulance to a nursing home which will care for them without cost until they are able to return to their home.

The Wabash river taped off at Mount Carmel. It rose less than a half foot Thursday night and is expected to crest Saturday or Sun-day. There have been no evacua-tions at Mount Carmel.

Plants Tree on

White House Lawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower planted an American black walnut tree on the south lawn of the White House Friday.

The tree, from New Salem State Park, Ill., is the only walnut among the 132 trees and shrubs of the White House grounds. Eis-enhower is the first president since Herbert Hoover personally to wield a shovel in a White House tree planting.

As he tossed dirt on the small tree's roots, he commented, "This is more fun than what I've been doing in the office."

He told his 5-year-old grand-daughter, Susan Eisenhower, who was on hand with the First Lady for the ceremony, "You'll be an old, old lady before that's a big tree."

Oil Test Within Block and Half West Frankfort Business Dist.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — The quest for oil has brought a rig within a block and a half of the business district here.

The site of a test to the Tar Springs sand is some 500 feet south of the city's main street.

It was reported that another test is being considered on main street at the former site of the city li-brary.

Two Carrier Mills Men Released on Bonds

Bobby Horton, 20, Carrier Mills, today was released under $2,000 bond following his arraignment on a charge of statutory rape, filed on complaint of the mother of a 14-year-old Carrier Mills girl.

Max Beasley of Carrier Mills, arraigned yesterday on the same charge involving a 12-year-old Harrisburg girl, also was released under $2,000 bond.

Both now await the action of the grand jury.

61,791 Receive Surplus Food During March

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Pub-lic Aid Commission reported Fri-day that 640,545 pounds of federal surplus foods with a total value of $132,360 were distributed in March to 61,791 persons in 26 downstate counties.

The counties and number of per-sons in each receiving the foods were:

Alexander, 2,157; Bond, 498; Christian, 1,930; Clinton, 356; Franklin, 7,615; Fulton, 1,287; Gal-latin, 1,452; Hardin, 772; Jackson, 1,998; Jefferson, 2,670; Johnson, 680; Macoupin, 2,040; Madison, 3,858; Marion, 1,696; Massac, 1,357; Monroe, 217; Montgomery, 1,774; Perry, 1,993; Pope, 645; 2,193; Randolph, 1,519; Rock Is-land, 1,667; St. Clair, 10,013; Sa-line, 4,995; Union, 853; William-son, 5,596.

Soviets Issue Threat to Iceland

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Russia told Iceland Friday to eject Amer-ican troops or face a "crushing blow" in any East-West war.

It was the latest and potentially most dangerous in a series of blis-tering threats by the Soviet Union against America's NATO Allies.

A year ago local Communists in Iceland almost succeeded in forc-ing withdrawal of the American airmen and ground troops who maintain American installations in Iceland, site of NATO's northern-most Atlantic bases.

Moscow Radio began the new attack today by broadcasting a newspaper warning that Russia "will be compelled to strike a crushing blow at the aggressors, wherever they are."

Then it added Iceland to the list of nations already given nuclear warnings within the past ten days — Denmark, Greece, Norway, West Germany, Turkey, The Netherlands and Britain. There also were warn-ings to Moslem nations having American bases.

Stratton Signs Two Measures

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Two bills relating to the punishment and parole of habitual criminals were signed into law Thursday.

The bills, signed by Gov. Wil-liam G. Stratton, define a habitual criminal as "a defendant who is convicted of a principal offense and is found to have been former-ly convicted of a felony."

The measures were sponsored by Rep. Robert L. Burhans (R-Peoria). They also provide per-sons sentenced to life imprison-ment may become eligible for pa-role after serving 20 years.

However, a criminal sentenced to a specific term must serve one-third of the time before he may be paroled.

UAW Boosts Reuther's Pay

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union winds up its 16th constitutional convention Friday with voting on amendments to the UAW consti-tution.

Union members voted Thursday to increase the salary of their president, Walter Reuther, from $18,000 a year to $22,000 a year.

Senate Committee to Probe Federal Tax And Credit Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee voted Friday to undertake a sweeping investi-gation of federal tax and credit policies.

The action was announced by Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.). He said the inquiry was approved by a unanimous vote.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), author of the motion adopted, said the investigation would go into, among other things, the cause of the "drastic increase" in interest rates and their effect on the national economy.

Eden to Undergo Operation Saturday

BOSTON (AP) — The second in-ternal operation in nearly four years will be performed Saturday on Sir Anthony Eden, it was an-nounced Friday.

Lahey Clinic surgeon Dr. Rich-ard B. Cattell will perform the operation at New England Baptist Hospital. It was also Cattell who performed the first operation in June, 1953.

Cold Snap May Hit Peach Crop

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The southern Illinois peach crop may have been dealt a damaging blow by Thursday night's cold snap.

The mercury tumbled to 28 de-grees and hovered near that level Friday morning.

Harold Hartley of the Illinois Fruit Council at Carbondale said it will take two to three days to determine the amount of damage to peach blooms in Jackson, Mas-sac and Union counties.

Hartley said more damage will occur if the weather says below freezing.

The freeze also rules out chances of a full-blown peach bloom show which annually attracts thousands of visitors to southern Illinois.

Hartley said the cold weather will cause some of the petals to fall before other buds reach full bloom.

Elsa Maxwell Steals Show From Duchess

NEW YORK (AP) — Feudin' Elsa Maxwell stole the Duchess of Wind-sor's thunder Thursday night with a ballroom bombshell — Marilyn Monroe.

The duchess should have had the evening made. She was honorary chairman of the season's floussiest charity shindig — the "April in Paris" Ball. She and the duke were guests of honor at a table carefully positioned for the spot-light and all eyes.

The light went off it about half way through dinner. Miss Monroe, with her husband, playwright Ar-thur Miller, slunk in fashionably late in a little ol' black sequin gown and sat down among the am-bassadors — Miss Maxwell's table.

More than 30 photographers de-serted the duchess' table in a body. They were followed at a pace only slightly more sedate by some of New York's most uppercrust so-ciety dowagers, waving programs for autographs.

The waiters couldn't get through with the next course for half an hour. The duchess had had it.

Miss Maxwell's intentions were barely short of audible. She and the duchess have been feuding since a hassle over a similar char-ity party four years ago. For a moment it had appeared to society that they might kiss and make up.

Miss Maxwell is the originator of the "April in Paris" affair, now in its sixth year. The duchess became honorary chairman at the request of her friend, Mrs. Rosemary War-burton Gaynor, general chairman for this year's affair.

Miss Maxwell quickly put down rumors that their piffy was piffy.

To Let Bids on

Operation Pounds

Hollow Concession

According to L. P. Neff, super-visor of the Shawnee National For-est, bids will be let on the opera-tions of the swimming, boating, picnicking, concession at the Pounds Hollow recreation area. Blank bids may be secured from the Forest Supervisor's office in the Harrisburg National Bank building or from the District Ran-ger's office at Elizabethtown. The bids will be opened at 2 p. m. April 29, at the supervisor's office in Harrisburg.

Pounds Hollow recreation area is located about 20 miles southeast of Harrisburg and three miles west of Highway 1 in southwestern Gal-latin county. Facilities at the area include a 30-acre artificial lake, about 50 picnic tables, a beach, bathhouse and sanitary facilities. The concession is open normally to the public from about May 15 until shortly after Labor Day. Charges are made for entrance to the area, nominal charges are made for boat rentals, bathing fa-cilities and refreshments.

Survivors are his sisters, Miss Ruth Thomas, East St. Louis, Mrs. Edith Warren of Centralia, Mrs. Mable Reynolds of Cottage Hills, and Mrs. Florence Coffee of Harrisburg; his brother, James Thomas of Detroit also survives.

Mail Must Go Through

House Committee Hires Extra Clerk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives is a strong believ-er in that old pony express slogan: "The mail must go through."

Particularly, its mail.
So Thursday as Postmaster Gen-eral Arthur E. Summerfield pre-pared to slash postal services across the nation because of a dearth of ready cash the House voted to hire an extra mail clerk.

Not that the House was worried about getting its mail on time. Summerfield had warned that unless Congress gave him 47 mil-lion dollars by midnight Friday the drastic cuts would go into ef-fect.

But that wouldn't affect the con-gressmen. At least, not their con-gressional mail deliveries.

Hung Jury in Stefko Trial

then got in himself. Stefko ap-proached and in abusive language told him he had no jurisdiction in Old Shawneetown and to release the prisoner to the Old Shawnee-town police who would put him in the village jail.

He said Stefko opened the door of the truck. Fox then, according to his testimony, got out of the truck and placed Stefko under ar-rest.

Fox said Stefko called for aid from the Old Shawneetown police and scuffled with Fox to prevent being put in the truck to be trans-ported to the County Jail.

Fox said he called upon Ber-nard Mann, Old Shawneetown po-lice officer, for help and that Mann advised Stefko to go quietly as he had been placed under arrest, but did no more. Fox said he then de-putized a bystander, Ray Goodwin, who then assisted Fox in attempt-ing to put Stefko in the truck.

Prisoner Disappears

It was brought out that Fox fi-nally picked up Stefko and tossed him in the back of the pickup, stay-ing in the rear himself while Good-win drove to the jail.

When the scuffle was over, the soldier prisoner had disappeared. Fox said no search was made for him, nor, to Fox's knowledge, was he ever recaptured.

The remaining witnesses, Good-win, Henry McGhee, Paul Nelson, Edgar McGhee, Bobby McGhee, Bill Lynch and Mrs. Velma Mc-Ghee, verified, in varying degrees, Fox's story.

Stefko and Mann, in defense tes-timony, brought out the additional information that the MPs had at first asked Mann if the prisoners could be lodged in the village jail and permission was granted, but the MPs decided otherwise on learning that there was no running water in the village jail.

Stefko Testifies
In other respects their testimony was similar to that of other wit-nesses, except they stated that Stefko had only approached Fox to discuss the possibility of having people arrested in Old Shawnee-town held and tried in the village to add a source of income to the newly organized community gov-ernment.

Stefko said he saw a soldier with Fox at first but had no idea the soldier was a prisoner. He also said that while he and Fox were talking Fox suddenly opened the truck door, jumped out and told the mayor he was under arrest.

It was then, according to Stef-ko, that he struggled against this action and the six foot three-and-a-half inch, 200-pound, 26-year-old deputy used a blackjack on Stef-ko's head.

Boy, 6, Killed, Sister Wounded Accidentally By Younger Brother

SANDWICH, Ill. (AP) — A little boy was killed and his sister was wounded seriously Thursday night by a single .22 caliber bullet fired accidentally by their younger brother.

Jack Louis Jensen, 6, son of the Jack L. Jensens, died shortly after he was admitted to Woodward Memorial Hospital. His sister Jody, 7, was in serious condition.

Authorities said the children were home alone, their baby sister having left the house a short time earlier, when their brother, Steve, 4, apparently found the rifle prop-erly behind a door in the home.

The gun went off, sending a bul-let through Jack's head. The bul-let then hit Jody in the back.

Illinois State Police

Rifle Team Wins

Sectional Championship

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Illi-nois highway police pistol team was winner of the National Rifle Assn. sectional championship at Davenport, Iowa, it was announc-ed Friday.

Official tabulations of the scor-ing credited Illinois marksmen with 1,089 out of a possible 1,200 points. The meet was held March 23-24.

The winning Illinois team was captained by Sgt. Jack Carlstron, of Lockport. Other members were: Sgt. Earl Smith, Mt. Sterl-ing, Patrolman Robert Riley, Tus-cola, and Patrolman Louis Sem-an, Springfield. This team will compete in the national tourna-ment later this year.

Easter Parade Style Show Features Carrier Mills Woman's Club Meeting

The Carrier Mills Woman's club held its regular meeting on Monday night, April 8, at the Carrier Mills Community high school as guests of the Homemaking department.

The girls in this department, under the guidance of their instructor, Mrs. Harold James, presented a lovely Easter parade of various styles and fabrics they have completed this year.

The program opened with the solo, "Easter Parade," by Elaine Starkey, accompanied by Linda Hill at the piano. The style show followed with commentary by Judy Brewer.

Group No. 1, the beginners, wore skirts and blouses of numerous colors and were modeled by Rosemary Warren, Carolyn Wyatt, Sandra Sue Moore, Mona Parks, Ruth Murphy, Rita Jane Richerson and Pat Dunn.

The second group consisted of the more advanced students and these were worn by Sharon Russell, Geraldine Fitts, Carolyn McSparrin, Lora Lee Taylor, Sharon Hooten, Lenora Martin and Ruth Craig.

Group three was composed entirely of seniors and the use of many styles and fabrics were shown by Delcie Blake, Mildred Zimmer, Mary Ann Craig, Judy Roberts, Beverly Arnold, Boneva Lanton, Janice Williams and Norma Green.

Mrs. James gave a most interesting talk on the things they have been doing in the Homemaking department that helps to prepare them for a better way of life.

Later in the program the senior girls demonstrated the use of different accessories to properly set off a costume. The comments on this phase of the show were given by Janice Williams.

After the show the guests were invited to have tea with girls in their well arranged Homemaking room. The table carried out the Easter theme in lovely pink and white. A large Easter bonnet with white candles in holders arranged with pink carnations made a lovely centerpiece for the table. Janice Williams poured the tea while Norma Green served the cake. Small cakes, nuts and mints were also on the table making it a lovely setting.

During the business meeting officers were elected for the coming year. They are as follows: President, Mrs. Loren Dallas; first vice, Mrs. George Whitney; second vice, Mrs. Hugh Miller, secretary, Mrs.

Cressie Holmes, treasurer, Mrs. George Henson, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Oscar Kingery.

Statehouse Workmen Repair House Ceiling

SPRINGFIELD — Statehouse workmen Friday were repairing a section of ceiling under the House gallery, which apparently was weakened by an overflow crowd earlier this week.

About a foot of the plaster ceiling collapsed after a cornice apparently gave way and caused the ceiling to sag. The House galleries were jammed with spectators Tuesday when Gov. William G. Stratton presented his 1957-59 budget to the Legislature.

The structural soundness of the galleries in both the House and Senate chambers has been cause for concern by officials here for some years.

The galleries of both houses were not involved in a $1,355,000 rehabilitation project now being completed in the Capitol by a legislative commission.

The commission, headed by Sen. Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph) was heavily criticized for some of its rehabilitation work, particularly the provision of a "palatial" lounge for members of the Legislature.

Despite the criticism, however, Peters won approval of a $260,000 deficiency appropriation for the rehabilitation project. The 1955 Legislature had appropriated $1,095,000 for the repair work.

U. S. Officials See War Danger In Aqaba Dispute

WASHINGTON — Early action is needed to settle the growing dispute over the international status of the Gulf of Aqaba and the adjacent straits of Tiran, American officials said Friday.

Failure to face up to the issue may result in a new Middle East explosion. Saudi Arabia already has threatened to open fire on any Israeli ship heading through the straits to the gulf port of Eilat, Israeli is counting heavily on this commercial route as an alternative to the Suez Canal.

Officials said the Saudi Arabian warning and the recent passage of an American ship through the Straits of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba make the dispute "hot again."

In the midst of this tense situation, the United States and King Saud of Saudi Arabia issued a joint statement reaffirming their pledge to oppose "Communist activity and other forms of imperialism and any other dangers that threaten peace and stability" in the Middle East.

The statement, made public here, was issued by Saud and James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special representative for the Eisenhower Doctrine in the Mideast, following a conference in Riyadh.

Pfc. Robert L. Dietz, son of Leo F. Dietz, Equality, recently completed the turret mechanic's course at the Seventh Army Tank Training Center in Germany. The course covered all phases of repair of the turret of the Army's M-55 tank. Dietz, a wheel mechanic in Service Battery of the 802d Field Artillery Battalion, entered the Army in January 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Clevenger Speaks at Congressional Dinner for REA Co-Op Leaders

Where industry, over-all, is doubling its electricity needs about every ten years, the farmer has doubled his need for electricity in five, Thomas Clevenger of Harrisburg, manager of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-operative, declared this week at a Congressional dinner for REA co-operative leaders held at the Willard Hotel in Washington, D. C.

"And," said Mr. Clevenger of farm use, "it appears that this is only the beginning."

Mr. Clevenger, in concluding his remarks, asked that the door be left open for co-operatives to enter the field of power generation should present suppliers fail to provide power needs at reasonable prices.

After declaring that during the past 20 years, farm and agricultural use of electricity has been primary at the comfort level, with about 80 per cent being used in the home and 20 per cent for production, Mr. Clevenger stated:

No Equal as Labor Saver
"Electricity as a production tool in agriculture has no horizon. It extends just as far as the field of automation can expand. As a labor saver, it has no equal."

A total of 1,028 electric co-operative systems in operation today serve 4,357,000 consumers, he pointed out, declaring they sold power to their consumer members at approximately two and three-fourths cents per kilowatt hour.

Approximately 25 per cent of the two and three-fourths cents cost of the power to the farmer represents the price paid by the co-operative for the power it distributed," he declared. "This was slightly higher in Illinois, the average being just a little above three cents."

"Correspondingly, power costs to the electric co-operatives were slightly higher and the 25 per cent ratio of wholesale costs to the cooperative as to retail costs to the farm consumer remain relatively the same.

Must Have Low Cost Supply

"We, in the co-operative electric field have studied, too, the industry's plans for generation expansion and wonder if the farm potential has been weighed in trying to anticipate the future production needs."

"We realize," he continued, "that a product in short supply has a tendency to become more dear in price. The farmer must continue to have an adequate low cost supply of electricity in Illinois if he is to compete with commodity production of like products in other areas. An increase in power costs to the co-operatives can mean only a corresponding increase to the farmer."

"As you know, the Administration of REA has the right to make loans to co-operative borrowers of REA for funds to construct generation facilities."

"It is not the desire of Illinois co-operatives to enter into the field of electric generation, so long as an adequate supply of electricity at a reasonable price can be obtained from those now in this field."

"However, we feel that it would indeed be unfortunate for the farmers and the electric co-operatives of Illinois if ever they were denied the right to generate their own electric power, should the present power suppliers fail in quantity, quality or price to provide the co-operatives' power needs."

"Legislation to the contrary could prove disastrous."

Pennsylvania, the nation's second largest producer of bituminous coal, crossed the 8,000,000-ton production mark just before the end of 1956. Bituminous is mined in 30 Pennsylvania counties and the record goes back to 1800.

178 Women Attend Day of Recollection At Equality Church

One hundred seventy-eight women of the Eldorado Deanery and six priests were present at the Day of Recollection at St. Joseph's church, Equality, Tuesday, April 9.

The opening was with Mass at 10 a. m. with Father Sims of Equality the celebrant, followed with coffee and rolls in the parish hall.

Spiritual exercises were conducted in the morning and again in the afternoon by Father Brill, Diocesan Moderator of the National Council of Catholic Women, discussing in a very inspiring manner "Divine Providence," "Sin," "Confession" and "Discouragement."

Dinner was served at noon by St. Ann's Altar society of Equality.

Women attending from Harrisburg were: Mrs. Nell Seten, Mrs. Ida Mitsdarffer, Mrs. Antonette Evans, Mrs. Catherine Bobka, Mrs. Petrova Tucker, Mrs. Marie Bridwell, Mrs. Angela Reshete, Mrs. J. J. Klein, Mrs. Estelle Thorpe, Mrs. Oma Thomas, Mrs. Ruth Pfister, Mrs. Beulah Pfister.

Mrs. Bertha McKenna and Mrs. Eileen Patrick.

Brushy

Mrs. Small Entertains
Galatia Home Bureau Unit
The Galatia Home Bureau unit met Tuesday with Mrs. John C. Small.

The major topic, "Preparing food for the deep freezer," was ably given by Mrs. Joe Hatcher. She demonstrated wrapping packages, exhibited different types of containers and told how to prepare meat, vegetables, fruit and miscellaneous food for freezing. The minor topic, "Culture of Roses," given by Mrs. Betty Tack, was popular, as a round-table discussion with helpful tips for rose growers followed.

Mrs. Elaine Gardner reported dues paid almost 100 per cent, and $17 was donated by the unit to the cancer fund. Mrs. Gardner also won the flower game.

Mrs. Rose Bledig, chairman of the unit, wore a hat and carried a basket-shaped purse to match which she had made at the crafts club of the narrow straw braid. Mrs. Cecil Pulliam showed two purses she had made for gifts.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Mary Margaret Small, served date pudding topped with ice cream and spiced tea during the social period.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Fanno Bledig.

Mt. Moriah W. S. C. S. met with Mrs. John C. Small Thursday. Mrs. David Lewis gave the lesson, "Our Plus Becomes a Cross," showing how the United States' surplus and economic superiority obligates Americans to service for less fortunate peoples. Mrs. Ora Galleher was elected president for the coming year. Mrs. A. J. Drott was a guest. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughter. The society's pledge of $100 has been paid in full.

Rev. Clyde Dempsey of Sturgis, Ky., will continue revival services at Union Chapel Presbyterian church the remainder of the week. Rev. Vola Sittig is pastor. The public is invited to the services each evening at 7 o'clock.

Gray Says House Group Eliminates Funds for Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) said Thursday that budgeted funds to start a new federal prison in the Midwest have been eliminated by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

He said the project is "the victim of the economy drive" but has only been deferred and eventually will be built.

The proposed maximum security penitentiary would cost an estimated 10 million dollars. The Federal Bureau of Prisons has spent $25,000 on selection of a site and had asked for $1,300,000 to start work during the next fiscal year starting July 1.

Gray, who has been boosting several sites in his southern Illinois district, said he was informed that the subcommittee denied the requested funds "to start construction last this year."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

We miss so many things because we do not pay attention to the things which we could see or hear. We do not train ourselves to look at the views before us. People have become satisfied with such momentary glances that they overlook important details.

During Jesus' ministry He was aware of each important small human need. When the crowds ignored children He gave them special attention. When a man climbed up a tree to see Jesus, the man was rewarded with a personal word from the Master. When a faithful follower in the crowd sought to touch Jesus' garment Jesus commended him for his faith.

Let us make Lent meaningful by noticing the needs of our fellowmen, by answering their requests for understanding and for love. We must not miss the way God wants us to go.

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University
On this May first it will be 100 years since Carbondale first became host town to a college. The town was young then, having been platted and its first dwelling erected in late 1852. In 1856 it became a village.

On May 26 of that same year a committee from the Alton Presbytery, appointed at its recent meeting at Decatur, came to Carbondale seeking "a site to establish a seminary of learning of a high literary character in Southern Illinois." They met with a group of interested citizens at the West Side school (then standing about where the gymnasium of Brush school is now).

This committee apparently was impressed by the new town and by the advantages it offered. They noted the fact that the founders had set aside certain town lots that would be given to groups wishing to erect church buildings; also that a nice frame schoolhouse had been built by popular subscription. They found that a provision in the deed to each town lot forbade the sale of alcoholic beverages on the premises. Should that occur, the lot was to revert to the city, be sold again and the proceeds given to the public schools. The visiting committee took note of all this.

After carefully considering these factors the committee decided that Carbondale was the best site available for their "seminary of learning." A subscription form was circulated locally and pledges amounting to $1045 in cash, seven town lots and 494 acres of land were made.

Three weeks later another meeting was held and 15 trustees were selected. Eight of those elected were present and held their first meeting that day. They named a committee composed of the Reverend W. J. Post, J. M. Campbell, and D. H. Brush to supervise the erection of a suitable building on a 30-acre tract donated by Henry Sanders. The name selected was Carbondale College.

It was decided to begin college operations soon. Accordingly, at a meeting of the board of trustees held on October 27, it was requested that J. M. Campbell finish the third floor of his store building for "academic purposes." This work was completed on April 6, and the first term of Carbondale College was begun there on the first day of the following month, with the Reverend W. J. Post named as principal and William Sheriff as teacher. Except for a short time during the Civil War and another in the late 1860s, Carbondale has remained a college town.

With the school in operation, plans for the erection of suitable buildings were launched. The architectural services of a Mr. McClure were engaged. Thomas Thornton contracted to burn "400 Merchantable brick" on the grounds for $4.50 a thousand. Despite coaxing, money advanced and "possibly threats," Thornton fell sadly behind in performance and was released from his contract. Shortly after Thornton's release Ezra and Isaac Burdick contracted to build the foundations of "a chapel and culinary department" at a cost of $3 a square yard, plus extra for dressed or brushed stone. They were to be paid with college bonds drawing 10 per cent interest and due in one year. They also were to take over the work of making and burning the necessary bricks.

Money was scarce and progress was slow. Nevertheless a contract was made for the erection of the walls, all lime, sand, labor and equipment necessary being furnished for $4.50 a thousand bricks laid. The Burdicks were later released from their contract. J. M. Campbell and D. H. Brush then took over and completed the building, having it ready to turn over to the trustees on September 30, 1861. The coming of the Civil War and the disruptions that resulted brought many difficulties to the college. Money necessary for the operation of the fledgling school was not to be had. Men interested in the project were entering the military services. Creditors began to press their claims in court until a judgment was secured and the property ordered sold to pay debts. After this was done, there yet remained a balance owing of $2561.00. Apparently without any legal obligation to do so, Campbell and Brush paid this amount in full.

After little or no use, the building was practically abandoned to become the gathering place of tramps or prowlers.

On September 8, 1866, the college property was sold to the regional conference of the Christian Church that had already been granted a charter to establish a college at DeSoto, six miles north of Carbondale.

The name was changed to Southern Illinois College. The Reverend Clark Braden of Centralia was selected as principal, and his wife became preceptress.

Reverend Braden announced the opening of the college for October 6, 1866. On that day five students were present. They were Butler Hall, Ben Johnson, Hayes Mulkey, Mollie Yost and Robert Yost. The disrepair of the building was so great that it was decided to delay the opening for one week and to use that time in making very necessary improvements and in a general cleaning.

After a week of renovating had passed it was found that eight additional students had come, making a total of 13. Not to be deterred by superstition, the first term of the college was opened on October 13 with 13 students present. Additional students continued to arrive and before the end of the term enrollment had reached 54. During the winter term it reached 75 and in the spring term of 1867 it was 105. During the first year 142 individuals had enrolled—88 men and 54 women.

Students engaged in varied activities. There were at least four literary societies. Volume One, Number One of a school paper, "The Young Ladies' Friend," appeared in November 1867. Another one, "The Egyptian Marvel," began publication in January 1868.

An old handbill announced that there would be "Splendid entertainment at Southern Illinois College, under the auspices of the Matheson, Egyptian and Adelphean Societies, at the College building, on Thursday and Friday evenings, June 30 and July 1, 1870. Doors open at 7 o'clock—performance begins precisely at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents. Private boxes and opera glasses for rent." "Dramatic personae," scenery, etc. are described. It must have been a gala evening.

In the late 1860s the establishment of Southern Illinois Normal University became assured. Since the "Normal" was to be located in Carbondale, support for Southern Illinois College dwindled, and it did not operate after 1870. It was 30 years or more, however, before the enrollment of the state school equalled that of the older college at its peak.

After the Christian church ceased to operate the school, the buildings and grounds were sold to the city of Carbondale for about $15,000 and were included in the city's bonus to secure the location of the state school. Later they were repurchased by the city and used for high school purposes. It was generally referred to as the "College" until about 1906, when it became Lincoln School.

QUICK EASTER BUNS

Yield: 2 dozen buns

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/4 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup currants
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1/4 lb. for glaze

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, spices, salt, and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in currants. Beat together egg and milk and add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about 1/4 minute on lightly floured board. Break off pieces of dough about 1 1/4 inches in diameter. Form each into a ball. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with milk. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes. While warm, with confectioners sugar icing, form a cross on top of each bun.

Do-It-Yourself...

Remember, it's the fresh ingredients in your home-baked recipe that make things taste better, stay fresh longer.

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — In addition to the $5,000 annual salaries of 58 senators and 177 representatives, it costs about $2,000 a day in payrolls — six or seven days a week — to run the Illinois General Assembly.

The $2,000 a day figure includes such House and Senate employees as 22 doorkeepers, 28 pages, 19 janitors, 7 cloakroom attendants and a small army of clerks.

All employees of the House and Senate are paid on a "per diem" basis, and all are paid for either six or seven days a week, although the Legislature through most of its session meets only two or three days a week.

All Senate employees are paid for seven days a week. Pages, doorkeepers, cloakroom attendants and other such employees in the House are paid for six days a week, while the major clerical help is paid for seven days.

Janitors Get $9 a Day

The House's daily payroll comes to about $1,100 and the Senate's is about $950.

The House payroll includes one head doorkeeper at $15 a day, a first assistant doorkeeper at $10 a day, and eight assistant doorkeepers at $8 a day.

Also on the House payroll are 12 janitors at $9 a day, 4 cloakroom attendants at $8.50 a day and 18 page boys at $7 a day. The chief page gets $8 a day.

Top job on the House payroll is the speaker's legal assistant at $25 a day. The chief clerk gets $23.50 a day, the assistant clerk $22 a day and the speaker's private secretary $23.

The Senate payroll includes the secretary of the Senate at $27.50 a day, an assistant secretary at $21.50 a day and an executive assistant to the president pro tem at $20.50. 36 Assembly Stenographers

Also on the payroll are a sergeant at arms at $15 and his assistant at $13.50; a head doorkeeper at $11.25 and 22 assistants at $10.25; 7 janitors at $9 and 8 page boys at $8. The chief Senate page gets $9 a day.

The postmistress for each House gets $14.75 a day.

Clerks below the top levels range from $18 a day to $10.75. Stenographers, 17 in the Senate and 19 in the House, get from $10.50 to $9.50.

Clergymen, who are brought to Springfield on a rotating basis by House members, get $10 a day for opening each session with prayer. The Senate chaplains get $9 a day.

Altogether there are about 80 persons on the payroll of the 58-member Senate and about 115 on reach home, the ex-Yankee sprinkled Athletics rallied with four runs in the ninth inning Thursday to shade the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-4. Billy Hunter and Irv Noren contributed singles to the rally by way of emphasizing that old Yankees never forget how to beat the Dodgers.

All of the jobs are by political appointment, with the majority party handling the lion's share of the appointments. For example, the Republican majority appoints the chief doorkeeper, the Democratic minority names the first assistant doorkeeper.

First baseman Vic Power of the Athletics was hit on the head by a throw by Don Zimmer in the ninth but was not believed seriously injured. He's being kept in Research Hospital for a few days, however.

Pirates Cop Another

The Pittsburgh Pirates rolled to their 19th victory in 27 games when they walloped the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Hall, Elroy Face and Bob Purkey. Dale Long blasted a two-run homer and rookie Paul Smith a three-run round-tripper for the Pirates.

The Chicago Cubs won their spring series with the Baltimore Orioles, 10 games to eight, with a 7-6 triumph over them. Dee Fondy led the Cubs' 12-hit attack with a pair of two-run homers.

Rookie Jack Sanford yielded only two hits in seven innings as the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Boston Red Sox, 7-1, for their third win in four games with the American League rivals. Ted Williams produced the Red Sox' run when he clouted his fourth homer of the spring off Sanford in the seventh.

Mickey Mantle hit his third homer in as many games but the world champion New York Yankees suffered a 6-5 loss to Ed Lopat's Richmond Spiders of the International League. Neal Wattington singled home the winning run off Tom Sturdivant.

Cards Blank Chisox

Lindy McDaniel pitched seven innings and Willard Schmidt two, allowing a total of five hits, as the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Chicago White Sox, 5-0. Homers by Stan Musial and Hobbie Landrith led the Card attack on Billy Pierce.

George Crowe's three-run homer in the eighth inning broke a tie and gave Cincinnati a 7-4 victory over the Senators at Washington despite homers by Ed Fitzgerald and Roy Sievers of the Senators.

Cleveland shoved over two runs in the ninth to beat the New York Giants, 6-4, at Miami. Giant lefty Johnny Antonelli, New York's opening game nominee, was blasted for 10 hits in eight innings but Early Wynn of the Indians, starting for the first time since March 17 because of an ailing hip, allowed only a homer by Willie Mays in five innings and walked none. It was Mays' 11th homer of the spring.

Trotters Hold 10-2 Edge Over College All-Stars

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters and the College All-Stars continue their whirlwind basketball tour at San Francisco Friday night with the Trotters holding a commanding 10-win-two-loss lead after Thursday night's 79-73 victory at Logan.

The Trotters got in some clowning Thursday night in the Utah State Field House, despite the narrow margin of victory.

Dick Heise of DePaul led the All-Stars to a 35-34 halftime lead, but the Trotters went ahead by 12 points with six minutes to go in the second half. Then, they put on bits of clowning for the fans.

However, the clowning ended abruptly after the college boys had narrowed the count to 73-70 late in the game. But that was the final effort by the losers.

McLeansboro Wins 3-Team Track Meet

McLeansboro, host to a triangle track and field meet Thursday afternoon, scored 90 points to take top honors. Eldorado was second with 77 and Johnston City trailed with 37.

McLeansboro, strong in field events, and Eldorado, with its strength concentrated in running, each copped seven first places and Johnston City was held to a lone first.

Gateley of McLeansboro won the 100 yard dash in 10.6, took the broad jump with 18' 1 1/2" and tied with teammate Knight in the high jump at 5' 4".

Willis of Eldorado won the mile at 4:55 and the half mile at 2:12.4. Dempsey of Eldorado took firsts in the 180 yard low hurdles at 21.3 and the 220-yard dash at 24.0.

Other first place winners: Kingery of Eldorado, high hurdles, 16-2; Lee of McLeansboro, 3 firsts, 440-yard dash, 56.7, the shot put, 42' and the discus, 104' 5"; Goddard of Johnston City, pole vault, 9' 3"; Eldorado won the varsity 880-yard relay and freshman relay and McLeansboro took the mile relay. Eldorado's varsity relay was made up of Ben Dempsey, Lester Feuguay, David Reeves and Chuck McCallister and Laffoon, Oglesby, Parks and Prince ran on the freshman relay team.

Coach Al Adams said he planned to take two bus loads of boys to the Mineral Area meet at Hurst-Bush Saturday. "We have only two seniors on our team and the experience of participating in a big meet will be good for the underclassmen," Adams declared.

Hawks Edge Celtics, 96-94

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks, who won't give up, and the talented Boston Celtics meet in Boston Saturday afternoon for the world championship of basketball.

The National Basketball Association playoffs are going down to the seventh and deciding game as the result of rookie Cliff Hagan's tip-in a second before the buzzer sounded Thursday night. The jump tap gave the Hawks a 96-94 victory to even the series at three victories each.

Hagan was a star at the University of Kentucky where he averaged better than 25 points per game, but he said that Thursday night was the first time he had ever scored a winning point.

"I'll remember it the rest of my life. It was my greatest thrill in pro basketball," he said.

Neither Boston nor St. Louis has ever won an NBA championship.

Tiger Jones is Favored Tonight in Bout with Vejar

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—A rebuilt Chico Vejar promises some fast action Friday night in a 10-round middleweight bout with favored Ralph (Tiger) Jones.

Jones, the fifth ranked contender from Yonkers, N. Y., was a 2 to 1 favorite to spoil Vejar's winning streak of six bouts.

But 25-year-old Vejar of Stamford, Conn., believes he is "bigger and stronger" as a middleweight, although he fought as a welterweight most of his eight-year professional career. Each fighter is expected to weigh about 158 pounds.

The 29-year-old Jones is a bruising body puncher who has won 43 of 63 fights with 17 losses and three draws. Vejar is a fast-stepping boxer who learned to use both hands well in 82 fights. He has won 72 with eight losses and two draws.

The War Memorial Auditorium bout will be nationally telecast and broadcast by NBC.

Like Receives Season Pass

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower now has his 1957 baseball season pass and, with it, some discouraging inside information about his favorite team, the Washington Senators.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators ball club, officially presented the President Thursday with season passes for himself and Mrs. Eisenhower, at the same time he "signed up" the Chief Executive to throw out the first ball at Monday's opening game against Baltimore.

Then the President asked Griffith about the Senators' prospects for '57.

Griffith told the President that the Senators are improved "about 25 per cent" from the team that finished seventh in the American League last year, but admitted that a rise to fifth place was about the best they can hope for this year.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
Sen. Jones Obtains Results in Program for Recreational Spots

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — First results of two years of effort by Sen. Glen O. Jones, R., Harrisburg, to develop a program of recreational spots for southern Illinois to attract vacationers and tourists have been obtained. Gov. William G. Stratton has approved projects for lakes in Saline and Johnson counties and he has one for Wayne county under consideration.

Stratton has approved a proposal calling for acquisition of 638 acres of land to be used as a site for a lake and a park, about six miles southeast of Harrisburg and one mile south of Route 34. The project will include 200 to 250 acres of water and is expected to cost $150,000 when completed. The acquisition of the land and engineering plans will cost about $60,000.

The project was approved by the Governor last week after a delegation consisting of Jones; Reps. Paul Powell, D., Vienna; Gordon E. Kerr, Brookport; and C. L. McCormick, R., Vienna; and various others called on him. After listening to Jones and others in the delegation, Stratton turned to State Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer, Yorkville, and said "Let's do this."

So Palmer declared the project of acquisition of the land in the 1957 recreational program with construction to be slated for 1958. Background of the efforts to establish the lake consists of representatives of 31 counties banding together to form the Shawnee Hills Recreational Association which also has another objective, the setting up of a new state park in the Harrisburg area.

Jones said there is a natural site for a "Little Garden of the Gods" somewhat similar to the "Garden of the Gods" in Colorado. He said it is about three to four miles southeast of the Saline lake project, that it contains great pillars of limestone which stick up and have layers of gorgeous colors to make a "very striking appearance."

He said it has a virgin forest and that forestry engineers are now building a road to give access to it. It contains, he said, steep bluffs and canyons and some small streams. Not too far away is "a magnificent cave." Jones said the cave is a large one and has been little explored. He said it has limestone walls, and formations, stalagmites and large rooms.

Rep. C. L. McCormick, R., Vienna, said the Conservation department has approved a proposal calling for acquisition of 1,000 acres of additional land to be attached to Ferne Clyffe State Park near Goreville, in Johnson county. McCormick said the additional land will provide a 50-acre lake. Palmer said other new lakes are under consideration for Wayne and Shelby counties.

The Illinois Association of Supervisors and County Commissioners has released its state legislative program. One proposal which would have placed distribution of passenger automobile license plates, provide identifying prefixes and allowed county clerks to keep a $1 fee for their work in processing applications already has been rejected by the House Motor Vehicles Committee.

Approximately 40 items were listed by the Association. They included: allowing jurors serving in courts of record 10c per mile car allowance; raise maximum per diem for deputy registrars on Registration Days to $15; change hours for registration places to be open on Registration Days to noon to 9 p. m.; and require protested real estate taxes to be paid in full, instead of 75%.

The Association also is backing a pending bill to raise the maximum per diem for judges and clerks of elections to $25, to repeal the portion of the law providing for two days' pay when 200 or more ballots are cast, and to allow 10c per mile for delivery and return of supplies. Another item permits boards to establish Public Building Commissions and deletes a provision that land must be contiguous.

Other items on the association agenda included: require county clerks to separate motor vehicle property assessments from the balance of personal property listing, showing name and address of owner and require the county collector to issue that portion of the bill in quadruplicate; permit townships to adopt zoning and building code regulations where there are no county regulations in force.

Permits county boards to select judges and clerks of elections; raises the maximum license fee for businesses providing entertainment or recreation or providing for the lodging of transients, to $200 per year; require county board approval before stripping top soil from subdivision lots or blocks; and to provide for county licensing of trailer parks under supervision of Department of Health.

Adaptability of the common mallard has made it world's chief wild duck. It will breed almost anywhere if unmolested.

FOURTH GRADE ROOMS
WIN BANNER AT PTA;
OFFICERS ELECTED

At the PTA meeting in Carrier Mills last Thursday evening, the fourth grades won the banner, having tied, as each room had 21 parents and 24 enrollment. They will share the banner and surprises, which are given to the room winning the banner each time.

The kindergarten entertained during the first part of the program by singing "Robin, Robin," "A Bird in a Pear Tree," and "Glory, Glory." Rita Lane, Kent Sweet, and Freddie Black were the three billy goats and Mike Brannon was the troll with green hair in the story, "Three Billy Goats Gruff," which was greatly enjoyed by all. Then Connie Beth Malone sang "I Dreamed I Was a Queen," accompanied at the piano by her sister, Candace.

The fourth grade room, under the direction of Rena Brackney, demonstrated singing games. This was a very colorful and spectacular part of the program.

The speaker was Carl Dillow, principal of the high school. Mr. Dillow made a fine talk on "School and Family Relationships." Everyone enjoyed and appreciated the timely points he made in this talk.

During the business meeting a report was given of teaching aids the PTA has purchased for each grade school room and an electric mixer for the lunchroom. The following officers were elected for the next year: President, Leighman Walker; vice president, Sevea Rodocker; secretary, Norma Shreffler; and treasurer, Juanita Campbell.

The next and last meeting of the school year will be May 2, at which time the spring festival will be held. Officers will be installed and room mothers will be recognized at this time.

The third grades were hostesses for this meeting and refreshments in keeping with the Easter season were served by the teacher, Elizabeth Miller, and room mothers, Clara Ruth Hearn, Norma Figg, Mary Agnes Travelstead, Edna Ruth Field, Irma Jean VanMeter, Dorothy McCafferty, Thelma Storms, and Jean McSparrin, who acted for Hilda McSparrin.

Thousands of Jobs Will Be Affected By Curtailment of Postal Service

By United Press

Thousands of persons would be thrown out of jobs and some business activities would be curtailed if the Post Office Department goes through with its plans to drastically reduce service, a United Press survey showed Friday.

Hardest hit would be the direct mail firms which prepare advertising circulars, catalogues and free merchandise samples. A number of them have announced they will be forced to shutdown if they lose third class mail privileges.

Affected to a lesser extent would be mail order firms, like Sears Roebuck & Co., and Montgomery Ward & Co., department stores, banks and even international business activities.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, faced with a 47-million-dollar deficit, said mail deliveries on Saturdays will be suspended, at least temporarily, beginning this week.

Other proposed cuts include only two mail deliveries in business sections, scheduled to begin next Monday, and suspension of third class mail service, slated for April 29.

One large direct mail firm, Reuben H. Donnelley Corp., announced it will close its four plants employing 4,100 persons on April 29 if third class mail is halted. The plants are located in Chicago, Nevada, Iowa; Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Los Angeles.
